further discussion of which was postponed until next meeting.

Those "New" Thoughts.

PLATE GLASS WINDOW.

"Looking through my Toric fine plateglass window," said an American lady in the course of her remarks while in a tram-car the other day. She said just the right thing. It cost a bit more to build a plate glass window and it cost a bit more to make a than worth the small difference in cost to you in the added comfort you derive from their use.

ARMISTICE DAY.

London, Nov. 11.

The fourth celebration of the Anniversary of the Armistice occurred amid scenes of great solemnity, beneath grey skies. An impressive two minutes' silence at eleven o'clock was universally observed. Everyone was wearing a Flanders poppy, which were sold in the streets on behalf of Earl Haig's appeal for ex-service men.

The principal centre was the Cenotaph, where long before the appointed hour, the whole of Whitehall was a mass of people, many carrying wreaths. Military Bands, playing appropriate music, were constantly arriving and taking up their positions round the Cenotaph.
Whitehall was lined with troops, a detachment of Guards faced parties of Sailors, Marines and men of the Air Force.

His Majesty the King, in khaki uniform, emerged from the Home Office at 10.45 a.m. He walked direct to the Cenotaph, saluted and deposited a huge crimson wreath. He was followed by the Prince of Wales (limping with the aid of a stick) and the Duke of York, Marquis Curzon and other Cabinet Ministers and the Dominions Commissioners, who reverently deposited wreaths. All stood bareheaded till Big Ben and maroons struck the hour, when the assembly stood to attention and remained motionless for two minutes. After the observation of the silence, massed hands played the "Old Hundredth" in which the Royalties and the crowd joined. A party of Marines played the final salute.

Long lines of organised deputations then began to deposit wreaths.

The occasion was marked in various parts of the country by the unveiling of local War Memorials and in others the Memorials were surrounded by floral tributes. The Politicians of many divisions observed a truce until noon.

Paris, Nov. 11.

The principal ceremony in connection with the observance of Armistice Day was the unveiling of a Monument at Rothondes, in the Forest of Compiègne, on the spot where the Armistice was signed.

Earl Haig and Lord Wester Wemyss awaited the arrival, by special train, of President Millerand, M. Poincare, members of the Cabinet and leading political and military dignitaries and Ambasadors. There were also present representatives of patriotic organisations. President Millerand during the proceedings presented Lord Wester Wemyss with the Medaille Militaire. He declared how as first Sea Lord he had signed the Armistice there. He warmly saluted in person Lord Wemyss and the Allied forces, which had hastened from all parts of the world in the war.

A dramatic recital of war events was delivered by M. Poincare, who followed, in the course of which he specified by name every nation, including the British Dominions, which had risen against the acts of the Central Empires.

Marshal Foch and Earl Haig also made stirring speeches, the latter dwelling on the value of Anglo-French friendship. The assemblage loudly cheered both Lord Haig and Lord Wemyss.

Brussels, Nov. 11.

There were impressive scenes at the Armistice Anniversary.
The principal ceremony was the burial of an unknown soldier at the foot of the National Independence Monument. The body was chosen at Bruges by a blinded ex-service man, out of five coffins from the military cemeteries at Liege, Namur, Antwerp and the Yser.
It was brought to the Capital, where, on a gun-carriage and wrapped in the National Flag, it was borne through enormous reverent crowds. The coffin was preceded by Ministers and other authorities, carrying Regimental Flags, and was followed by H.M. the King, Princes Leopold, Prince Charles and representatives of the Allied Armies and delegations from the Services.

The burial was followed by a one-minute silence and suspension of traffic throughout the country. After a speech by his Majesty, French, Italian and American Generals pinned decorations on the flag enveloping the coffin. Lord French deposited a wreath.

Washington, Nov. 11.

Armistice Day was observed in the United States by simple ceremonies. President Harding and members of the Cabinet, escorted by cavalry, made a pilgrimage to Arlington Cemetery and laid a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. A one-minute silence was observed in many parts of the country.

The President issued a message to the Nation, declaring that the day marked America's most impressive participation in the world's affairs. He added: "I think we have come to realise we cannot hope to avoid obligations and responsibilities, often arduous and burdensome, as part of the price we must pay for our fortunate relationship to the confraternity of nations."

DASTARDLY ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

London, Nov. 11.

A startling official statement has been issued by the Scotland Yard authorities. It is announced that it has been definitely established that Sir William Horwood, Commissioner of Police, is suffering from the malicious administration of poison. The origin is at present unknown. Sir William's condition remains critical.
He was taken ill on Thursday while dressing in his office. He was removed to hospital, apparently suffering from severe heart disease.

Scotland Yard has issued warnings to prominent persons to be careful how they dispose of parcels sent to them anonymously.
Officials believe that a lunatic posted Sir William Horwood a parcel of chocolate creams filled with arsenic.

Sir William's condition has improved, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

THE OLDENBROEK EXPLOSION.

Amsterdam, Nov. 11.

The Official Report shows that the experimental explosion, at Oldenbroek on October 29th, yielded results similar to previous explosions. For instance it revealed successive audible and nonaudible zones. The furthest points at which the explosion was heard were parts of Austria, 562 miles from Oldenbroek.

THE HOME ELECTIONS.

London, Nov. 11.

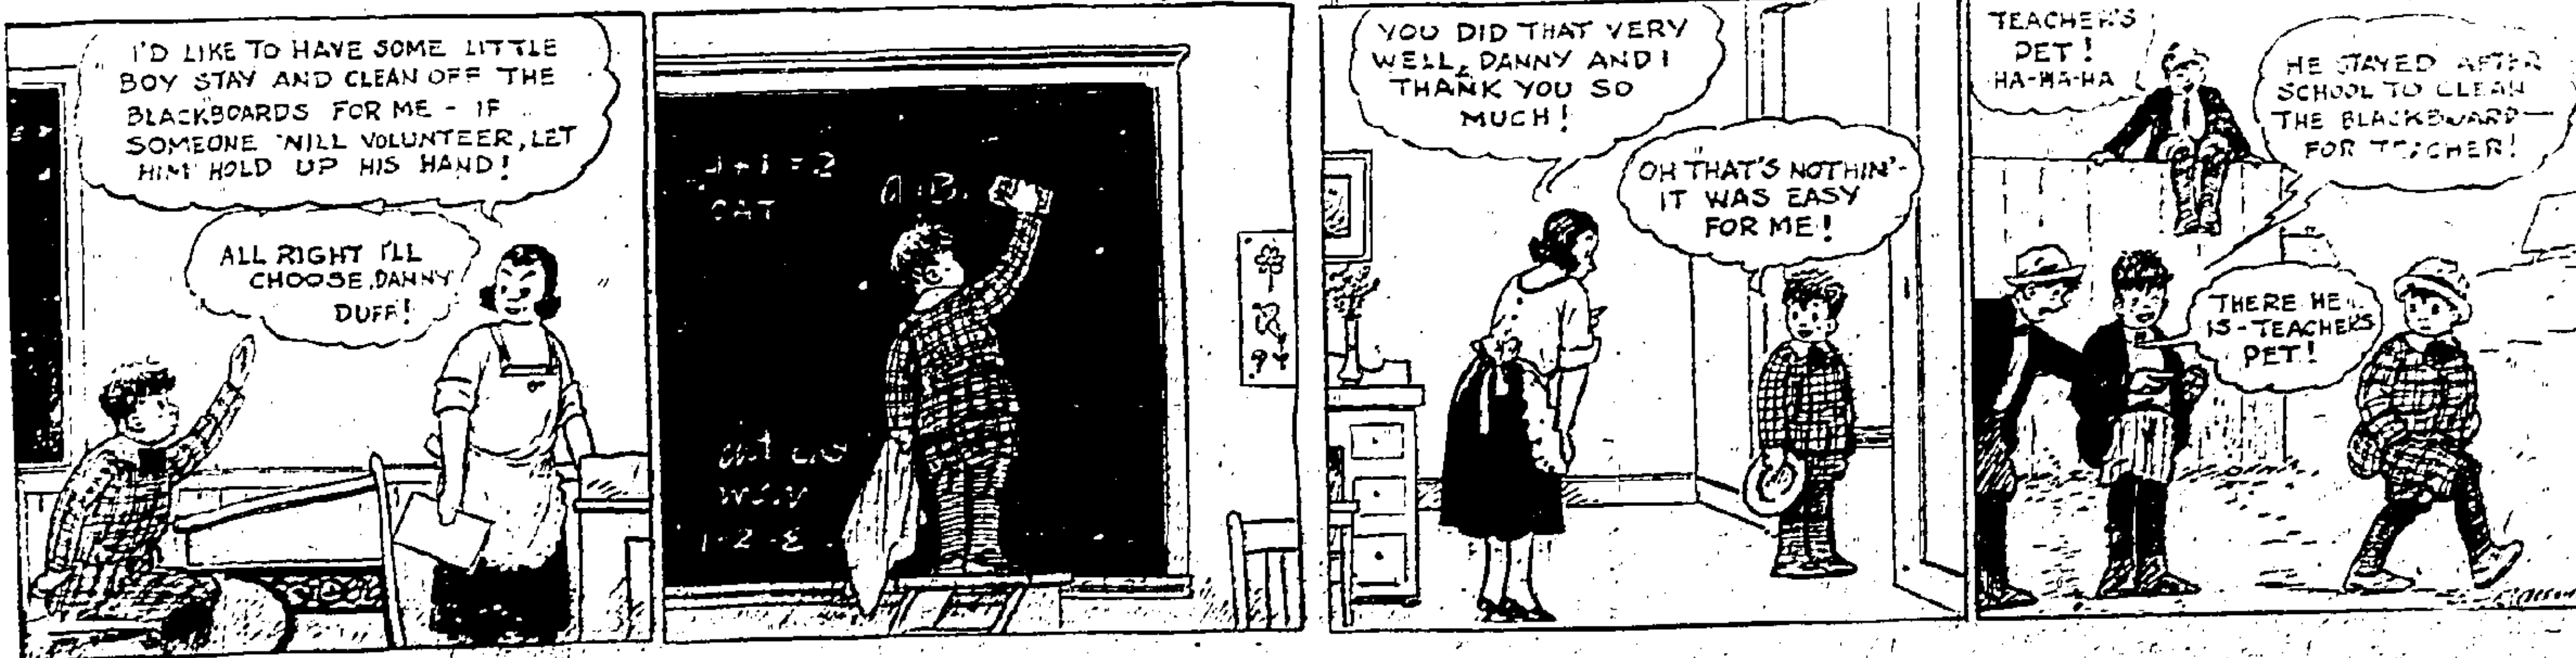

The usual polling hours will be extended in many constituencies at next Wednesday's elections, in accordance with candidates' request, as legislatively provided for. This, however, will not interfere with arrangements to declare the results of most London boroughs about midnight on Wednesday. Similarly results will be declared in a large majority of provincial boroughs the same night.
Among the exceptions are Birmingham, Leeds and Edinburgh, where, with some others, results will not be announced until Thursday. Practically all County constituencies will defer counting until Thursday.

THE NEAR EASTERN CRISIS.

Constantinople, Nov. 11.

The disquieting rumours concerning the Sultan's whereabouts have now been cleared up. A message from Constantinople says that the Sultan, accompanied by Court dignitaries, drove in an open carriage to the Yildiz Mosque on the occasion of the feast of Selamlık.

[Selamlık literally means "men's part of Mohammedan house."] Paris, Nov. 11.

Defending his Near Eastern Policy in the Chamber of Deputies to-day, M. Poincare said that France has always been in complete agreement with Great Britain as regards ensuring the freedom of the Straits. British communiques caused surprise to the French and Italian Governments and produced a state of dangerous excitement among the Turks.

France only withdrew her troops from Chanak, he said, because military experts declared it was untenable. He re-affirmed the necessity of close agreement with the Allies.

In conclusion, M. Poincare said he was happy to find Lord Curzon presiding at the British Foreign Office in a Cabinet led by Mr. Bonar Law, who had always been a sincere friend of France.

A semi-official statement shows that France is now disposed to agree to the postponement of the Lausanne Conference beyond November 11th. France also does not favour the suggested preliminary Allied meeting, but would agree thereto if it was held in Paris.

Riga, Nov. 11.

It is reported from a trustworthy source in Moscow that Russia is making serious military preparations in the Caucasus, whence the transfer of troops to Georgia and Armenia has already begun.

London, Nov. 12.

Cable communication with Constantinople has been restored. Delayed messages detail frequent meetings between Rafet Pasha and the High Commissioners.

On 7th inst., yielding to pressure from the Allies, the Customs reverted to the tariffs which were operative before the Kemalists' seizure of the administration.

At a meeting the same afternoon, Rafet Pasha declared he had received instructions not to accept Allied control; but apparently the telegrams crossed. Therefore, he admitted a fresh reply. Meanwhile, he gave orders suspending taxes and restrictions on cereals.

The Kemal delegation has arrived en route to Lausanne. They declared they were inflexibly instructed to insist on the Angora national pact as the basis of a treaty. They insist on the Greeks repairing the damage in Asia Minor and refuse the idea of the limitation of Turkish armaments. They demand that Turkey receive guarantees for the safety of Constantinople and the Sea of Marmara.

London, Nov. 12.

The Cabinet Ministers are remaining in Town over the weekend in view of the Near East situation, which the scanty news arriving shows to be disquieting.

Paris, Nov. 12.

M. Poincare has suggested to the British Government that there should be a formal opening of the Lausanne Conference to-morrow with a view to beginning actual negotiations on November 20. The interval would be occupied by Marquis Curzon, and the Italian representative meeting M. Poincare in Paris to discuss the common attitude.

MANCHESTER COTTON SPINNERS.

London, Nov. 11.

The statement of Sir Charles Macara, read before a mass meeting of members of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Association at Manchester, said that while the whole world was bare of cotton goods, they found it impossible to get trade on a paying basis.

There was disorganisation and confusion everywhere; such business as was going through was at figures which were a long way short of paying expenses in the great majority of cases.

Many mills had not paid dividends for over two years. Both India and China had had excellent seasons and ought now to be placing orders freely. By allowing a large section of the trade to make to stock, they were playing into the hands of merchants. He urged that the remedy lay in more effective control of the trade through the establishment of an Advisory Board, including representatives of both manufacturers and operatives.

ANOTHER STRIKE IN INDIA.

Bombay, Nov. 11.

A wide-spread strike has broken out among the mill operatives at Ahmedabad over the question of a reduction of wages. Forty mills are affected.

A WINTER AILMENT.

The Time When Rheumatism Returns.

This is the season when stiffness in the joints, and sharp twinges of pain in the muscles of the arms, legs or back, give warning to many people that rheumatism has not been dispelled from their system. Damp or cold days excite the old trouble and make existence miserable.

There are almost as many ways of treating rheumatism as there are doctors. Most of these treatments are directed only at the symptoms, and are reckoned good enough if they relieve the pain and stiffness for a time, but they fail to get at the cause of the trouble, and so the rheumatism returns after exposure to damp or cold.

This is because rheumatism is usually associated with the blood, and it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up and able to throw off the poisons of the disease.

The most direct treatment for rheumatism is Dr. Williams' pink pills, because they enrich the blood, making it pure and red. By this method the system is strengthened, the poisons are expelled, and the patient is far less likely to suffer from further attacks.

For men and women alike, Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people are a valuable tonic and health builder. They are sold by dealers everywhere, also one bottle for $1.50, six for $8.00 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Seaboard Road, Shanghai. The price includes postage.

A Chinese has been arrested in Macao in consequence of the discovery of a bomb. It appears that the man went to a friend in the Chinshan district to secure a loan, which was refused. He left behind a basket, which on examination was found to contain a powerful bomb.
The next day, no explosion having occurred, he sent a rich-ha coolie for the basket, with the result that the coolie was detained and gave information which led to the man's arrest.

In a case against a young Chinese for alleged possession of four rounds of ammunition and a revolver of antiquated pattern, Mr. E. W. Hamilton who was informed that the defendant was on his way to Canton, said:—
"Six months' hard labour. I would have made it a year were it not for the fact that you were leaving the Colony."

NO LICENCE.

Aged Hawker's Case.

At the Police Court this morning, an old Chinese, whose age was given as 77, was charged with hawking without a licence.
The Magistrate (Mr. Hamilton) said:—"I am not going to convict an old gentleman of 77 years who could not possess a licence.
You are cautioned."

It was stated that the defendant had not enough money to possess one, and Sergeant Elwood, in reply to Mr. Hamilton, said that refen-dant possessed relatives amongst the restaurant and shop-owners at Shek Oengchi who whom assistance might have been expected.

The Magistrate said that these old people had all his sympathy.
"They were persons to whom licences should be granted. Lusty young people up to 30 years or so should not be granted licences, his Worship added. He could not understand why the men's rich relatives should give their poor cousins to go into the Court and "lose face" by so doing.

Stephen Harold, who was sent back after an unsuccessful attempt to stow away in the Camba for Singapore, again appeared at the Magistracy this morning. Mr. J. R. Words said:
"Inspector M. Ody says you are a seaman, that you left your ship at Manila and that you are prepared to ship out again. Is that so? Accused:—"Yes sir." The Magistrate:—"All right; that being the case, I will sentence you to one day's imprisonment, which means that you are now discharged, and that I will commit you to the House of Detention where you will remain until you can find work." Accused:—"Thank you very much, sir."

For stealing a camera identified by Mr. de Rome as having been stolen from the side car of his motor cycle, a Chinese who was arrested by a detective just at the moment when he was entering a pawnshop at Wanchai to dispose of it, was sentenced by Mr. J. B.
Wood to three months after a statement had been made of the case by Sub-Inspector Staftain, prosecuting.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE IN CHILL.

Santiago, Chili, Nov. 11.
 Five hundred houses were destroyed in an earthquake at Coquimbo and some lives were lost. The shock lasted from two to four minutes, varying in different parts of the country. Details are lacking, owing to the breakdown of communications.

The value of the houses destroyed is estimated at five million pesos. The railway depots at Coquimbo were shaken to the ground and many railway carriages overturned. A tidal wave carried away the greater part of the mole in the harbour.

The violence of the shocks and the approximate locality were recorded in Florence Observatory in Italy.

The latest reports show that there were 200 killed and 400 persons injured at Coquimbo, Sirena and Copiapo as a result of the earthquake and tidal wave.

The waters flooded 300 yds. of the shore at Coquimbo, Antofagasta and Caldera.

A message from Hawaii says that a tidal wave swept the Bay on Friday evening, washing craft towards the sea. There were no casualties, but a panic occurred among the Japanese living on the water-front.

AMERICA AND WORLD PEACE.

Washington, Nov. 11.
 Dr. Woodrow Wilson, former President, delivered his first public lecture, since his illness, here to-day.

Dr. Wilson declared that America had always stood for justice. "The puny persons now standing in the way would presently find their weakness no match for the strength of moving Providence," he added. The speaker felt that certain Americans were anxious to do their part towards enduring world peace.

Addressing a crowd of his admirers, Dr. Wilson asserted that the Senate Group, which prevented the ratification of the Versailles Treaty, did not represent the United States because the United States were advancing, and they were slipping back. "Where their slipping will end, God alone can determine."

THE GERMAN CABINET.

Berlin, Nov. 11.
 The Chancellor announces that he intends to reconstruct the Cabinet. He is negotiating for the inclusion of influential business-men. It is reported that Herr Cuno, Manager of the Hamburg-Amerika Line, is a candidate for the Foreign portfolio.

MEXICAN POLITICS.

City of Mexico, Nov. 11.
 General Carrasco, leader of the Rebel Army on the West Coast, has been killed with seven followers at Guamachilito. This event, closely following on the execution of Murguía, removes another of President O'Bregon's chief enemies.

BOARD OF TRADE RETURNS.

London, Nov. 11.
 The Board of Trade Returns for October were: Imports valued at £25,014,000, an increase of £2,570,000 compared with September. The value of Exports was £20,398,000, a decrease of £2,112,000 on the figures for the previous month.

CRICKET IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Capetown, Nov. 11.
 In their match against Western Province, the M.C.C. scored 311 in their first innings. Mead made 97 and Fender 96. The home team had scored 110 for four wickets at the conclusion of the day's play.

THE VOLSTEAD LAW.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.
 The final result of the Referendum shows a majority of 29,621 in favour of making California dry.
 The Volstead Prohibition Law, therefore, will be put into force.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

FIRST WOMAN TRADE ENVOY.
 Miss A. V. Smith, for the past two years secretary to Mr. Lansing Hoyt, American Trade Commissioner at Shanghai, has just been named Assistant Trade Commissioner at that port. The appointment means that Miss Smith becomes the first woman Assistant Trade Commissioner to be named by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce.

Miss Smith took the examinations for the promotion under Mr. Hoyt a month ago and the appointment is official confirmation that her knowledge of American and Chinese trade conditions makes her capable to act as the Assistant Trade Commissioner there.

CHINESE MERCHANTS' LOSSES.
 A number of local Chinese merchants have addressed a petition to the Government praying that a claim for indemnity be made against the Russians for losses sustained by Chinese merchants as a result of the fall in value of the rouble.

"LEST WE FORGET."

Old Memories Revived at "Easama" Dinner.

Many old memories were revived at the "Easama" dinner at the Hongkong Hotel on Saturday night. Every table was named—Ypres, Gallipoli, Mons, Cambrai and all the places familiar to the boys who saw active service were mentioned. "Old Bill" (Mr. W. Hill), with tin hat and muddy boots, moved among the tables with a jar of the stuff that cheers. The band of the King's Regiment played the old marching tunes, and the menu contained such appropriate courses as "devilled Whizzbangs on toast."

Comrades in distress were not forgotten. The poppy worn by H. E. the Officer Administering the Government, who occupied the place of honour, was put up for auction on behalf of Earl Haig's Fund, being knocked down for $65 to Mr. C. H. Lyson, who afterwards resold it to Mr. J. T. Bagrain for $80. Mr. H. J. Timperley bought in "Old Bill's" rum jar for $35 and the poppies of the guests, which were collected and sold, also helped to swell the sum raised.

During the evening some excellent songs were contributed by the old favourites, Messrs. V.C. Labrum, Patterson and A.P. Glanville.

Dr. Black was heartily applauded on rising to propose the toast of the Ex-Active Service Men's Association. He remarked that that was the first time he had been in the firing line and he confessed that he felt himself to be in a very dangerous position. He noticed that one of his fellow guests was placed in Armentieres, the village where the Mademoiselle came from. His Excellency had been placed in a very serious position at "Shell-fire Corner," but he (the speaker) was in the safest position of the lot. The Association was very young in months, but it was a very lusty infant, and judging from what he had seen that night it gave every promise of developing into a healthy and vigorous adult. (Applause). Dr. Black referred to the great privilege it was to belong to such a unique Association. One of the great responsibilities placed upon their shoulders was that of showing that the men who could fight well could also make the peace well. So long as the Empire could rely on the men who answered "Here, Sir" in 1914, and were prepared to answer "Here, Sir" again that night, if necessary, he thought they might look forward with every confidence to that heritage of happiness which was their birthright, and to the time when they again looked on life as a glorious adventure. (Applause).

Message of Citizenship.
 Mr. Tee Dale Mackintosh, who was greeted with musical honours on rising to reply, said the message of Armistice Day as he understood it was a message of citizenship. The reason why they were called upon that night to show and to prove their citizenship was because around them was the memory of those who had fought with them and whom they had learnt to love. He was not ashamed to strike for one brief second a sentimental note. He was not ashamed to ask them to remember those sterling fellows who fought with them, who joked with them, who lived with them, and who died at their side. It was up to them to see that their sacrifice was not in vain. It was for their memory that an Association of this kind stood. It was inspired by their example that they and he joined hands that evening and declared that their dead comrades should not die in vain. They had set a work to do in order to justify their sacrifice, and if they failed in the work that was before them now, then the great sacrifice they made was in vain. "It is, Sir," the speaker concluded, "with feelings of that kind that we thank you for the encouragement and sympathy you have shown us this evening by drinking the health of this Association. We cannot sit still, we cannot endure to go on living, when we know that the brightest and the best have passed away, unless we are prepared to take part in a work which, we believe, they are still taking part in in their own way in some other sphere. (Applause).

A Mournful Note.

Col. Davey, replying for the Army, apologised on behalf of the General Officer Commanding for his unavoidable absence. In the Association there was a common stock of memories, of hardships, shared, of dangers faced, and these could not fail to form a very important link between them as long as they lived. He hoped, however, that they would forgive him if he struck a somewhat mournful note. It was evident that an Association of their kind was bound to lose as years went on. The community of experiences—experiences which he hoped would not occur again—were of an ephemeral nature, and so they would have to face the fact that their Association was bound to time to share the common fate of men and gradually dwindle and disappear until possibly, one might foresee but one soldier of the Ex-Active Servicemen's Association left to dine at the Hongkong Hotel (Voices: "Old soldiers never die" and laughter.)

The health of the Visitors was cordially drunk, the toast being proposed by the Vice-President of the Association, Mr. W. W. Mackenzie.

Mr. B. Wylie responded. He asked what the Association was doing to justify its existence. No one would deny that it certainly had done a very great deal, but one had to remember that though the members of the Association were veterans yet they were very young fellows. With regard to their social club he regarded it as alright in its way, but he urged that in order that the community should have the benefit of it, it should begin to take an interest in communal affairs. The Club must be something more than social and recreational; it must be political.

A Gentle Jest.
 His Excellency, before leaving, expressed his great delight at being invited to the function. He had listened to Mr. Wylie's remarks with the greatest pleasure. Mr. Wylie was a Scot from Kowloon and he had a very great enemy in Hongkong, and his enemy had adopted the name of James Robert McWhirter. That man also lived in Kowloon (Laughter). It was always a source of interest to him, sometimes of pleasure and sometimes of anxiety, to think what Mr. Wylie could be meditating when he read some of the lugubrious writings of his enemy, Mr. Robert McWhirter (Laughter).

After the dinner most of the members adjourned to the Club premises, where a presentation was made to the retiring President of the Club, Lieut. W. St. A. Malleon, V.C. This took the form of an engraved silver hunter watch subscribed for by the members of the Club. The presentation was made by the new President, Mr. N. J. Mackintosh. After referring to the difficulty he felt in adequately filling the office vacated by Lieut. Malleon, Mr. Mackintosh spoke of the latter's excessive modesty as regards the great military honour he had earned. It had been most difficult to discover what particular service had won their retiring President the Victoria Cross. Nevertheless, he had heard a story of a young midshipman, who, at a critical moment, jumped overboard with a rope round his waist and swam to the shore where he made fast the moorings of his boat. (Loud cheers). Mr. Mackintosh further spoke of Lieut. Malleon's good work in Committee on behalf of the Club.

A Modest Hero.

The presentation was then made, Mr. Mackintosh stating that they hoped shortly to have a photograph of Lieut. Malleon to hang in the Club.
 There were loud cries for a speech from Lieut. Malleon who was hoisted on a table for the purpose. Lieut. Malleon thanked them all for their kindness but made little of his achievement. "I was asked to do something and I did it. That was all," he said. After his brief speech the Club's modest hero was seized by several stalwarts who shouldered him in triumphant progress to the bar. The night's jollifications ended with a musical programme.

CENTRALISED CHARITY.

A new idea in the matter of local charitable efforts was put forward by "Robt. MacWhirter" in his contribution of Saturday—namely, the centralisation of such activity by the holding of a big Annual Charity Fair in place of the various money-raising schemes adopted by individual societies and organisations and spread over the whole year. The proposal has an attractive appearance, especially when we recall the huge sums of money that were raised during the war by functions of a similar character, and also when we remember the great enjoyment which these fairs gave to the general public.

To carry out such a scheme as is suggested, sound organisation and a willingness on the part of all local charitable bodies to co-operate would be essential. We fear that some of these bodies would fight shy of the idea and prefer to run their own schemes in their own way, though it could be shown that there would be a prospect of all profiting more from the new way than from the old, this would probably be sufficient to overcome any insularity of viewpoint. We presume that the idea would be to make provision on the Fair Ground for the several local bodies interested in charities to run their separate stalls, which would cater as much to mere man as to the fair sex, and that certain general attractions would be included from which the proceeds would be shared on a percentage basis. But these are details which would necessarily have to be considered, along with others, by those interested in the suggestion. If, as proposed, two days were set apart for a Fair of this character and all went into the movement with a determination to make the thing a big success, and if the right atmosphere were created by sound and enterprising publicity, money would no doubt flow freely. The idea would also result in a considerable conservation of energy now devoted to separate schemes and prevent a deal of overlapping as well.

Hongkong's charitable efforts are now many and extensive in their scope, and it has been shown by past experience that the public is willing to spend money freely for worthy causes.

If the scheme now proposed would have the effect of increasing that flow of money, and at the same time providing a couple of days of real enjoyment every year, then there is everything to be said in its favour. The idea is certainly worth consideration, but before anything could be done in the matter it would be necessary for the heads of the various local charitable organisations to get together and analyse the suggestion at some length and in considerable detail.

A Boxing Dispute.

The match between Battling Key and S.P.O. Morgan on Friday night was scarcely the success that we hoped it would be. Whilst in no sense wishing to discount Morgan's win, we should like to express our admiration at the very plucky show put up by the Chinese boxer, who was fighting a considerably heavier man and, through injury, was unable to make full use of his right hand, on which he usually depend for his punch. A dispute has arisen regarding the weights at which the two men fought. Key saying that he "understood" "catchweights" to mean "catchweights within the lightweight limit." Whether that is a contradiction in terms or not, we have not the slightest doubt that Key thought this to be the meaning of the term, for so long ago as the 4th instant, when Key informed us that the fight had been fixed up, he stated so much and we announced that the fight would be on this basis. There is therefore no question of Key "framing up" this as an excuse. Whether Morgan was over the lightweight limit on Friday we do not know, as he did not scale. But the past is over now, and inasmuch as Morgan appears inclined to agree to meet Key within the lightweight limit, there ought to be no difficulty in fixing up a return match later.

A Glut of Money.

The other day the writer of the note was in conversation with a man around town, who said he was somewhat puzzled to understand how it was that, with the general trade in a bad way, the price of practically every stock on the Hongkong share market stood at so high a figure. It is not so very puzzling, after all. Chinese merchants with large sums of liquid cash in hand find there is very limited employment for it in these days of reduced trade and they very naturally seek to place it out in stocks, where it will earn a fair return. Hongkong, during the past few weeks, has been glutted with ready money, local brokers have enjoyed a boom in business, prices of stocks have been forced up to a level unjustified by the earnings of the undertakings concerned, and it only needs an improvement in trade conditions to see the withdrawal of much support from the share market and a fall in quotations. The large amount of money available was amply demonstrated the other day, when subscriptions to the new construction company came tumbling in at a rate many times over what was required. To some, this seeming affluence may be a good thing, but for the Colony's best welfare it is bad. What is needed, and needed urgently, is a general revival of legitimate trade and the employment of money in productive industries. The present year has witnessed at least two big setbacks to Hongkong's commerce. First, there was the disastrous strike of February last, during which much was lost never to be regained, and secondly there was the Canton trouble of a few months back during which the trade of the whole Province was near to being paralysed. Add to this, the general slump in the world's commerce consequent on unstable political conditions and the uncertainties of peace, and it will be seen that for the commercial man concerned either with imports or exports the year has not been a bright one.

False Signs.

But here in Hongkong we have money to spare. We can budget to spend over seven millions next year on development work, property values are still ridiculously high, there is so much building going on that more workmen are being sought for, while local brokers have reaped a fat harvest. We are playing with unemployed surpluses rather than engaging in profitable business, and in connection with this it would be wise to utter a word of caution to those who mistake the abundance of money to be desirable wealth. There will come the inevitable reaction, and those who have gambled and squandered will regret their indiscretions. The present time of trade slump should be made one of patience and quiet organisation, so that when better times come we shall be all the better fitted to benefit.

PRUDENCE AND LOVE ARE INCONSISTENT: IN PROPORTION AS THE LAST INCREASES, THE OTHER DECREASES.—Rockeford's

During the past four days two Chinese cases of enteric have been notified.

Jewellery of the total value of $1,150 has been stolen from a chest of drawers where it was kept by Mr. Ogilvy in his room at the Hongkong Club.

A Chinese was removed to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday as a result of a collision with a motor cycle ridden by Mr. P. Nightingale, in Queen's Road East.

Copies of Mr. Bowes Smith's War Book, "Four Years on the Western Front," are now obtainable at the E. A. S. M. A. Club and from Messrs. Kelly and Walsh, Ltd. and Brewer and Co.—Advt.

A thief entered Mr. R. W. Taylor's cabin on the Empress of Canada during the week-end and stole a cash-box containing his private papers, his master's certificate and jewellery of the value of $91.

A Chinese man and woman on returning from the Peking Theatre at Yau-mat-ti yesterday fell in with two footpads who, armed with sticks, forced them to surrender articles of jewellery valued at $51 as well as a sum of 97 cents. The robbery occurred at the junction of Matuakok and Yau-mat-ti high road.

In order that the accounts of the Ministering Children's League Bazaar, held on Saturday, November 4th, may be closed as soon as possible, it is requested that any sums of money which have not yet been sent in should be forwarded at once to the Hon. Treasurer, Lady Stuart Taylor, 4 Thorpe Manor, May Road.—Advt.

At the dinner d'ansant given at Repulse Bay on Armistice night, a bottle of champagne was put up for auction on behalf of Earl Haig's fund; and was knocked down to Mr. Peterson for $55. The auctioneer's hammer was then sold for $5, and on its being put again was re-sold for $6. The fund thus benefited to the extent of $66.

Early this morning, an exciting incident occurred at Saiwanho, when a suspicious character who was seen moving secretly about the streets was challenged by an Indian constable, Narana Singh, but put up a stout resistance. In the struggle, the constable's revolver was accidentally discharged, with the result that the prisoner was wounded in the left hand. The latter was taken to the Government Civil Hospital for treatment.

As a result of an arrest made aboard the Shekhi ferry-junk, a man described as a travelling trader had to answer a charge of possession of a revolver and 100 rounds of ammunition, at the Police Court this morning. Mr. E. W. Hamilton was informed that the method of keeping the arms adopted by the prisoner was highly suspicious, as the revolver was carefully concealed in the bottom of one of the baskets the man took with him aboard the junk. Sentence of six months' hard labour was inflicted.

Our Amoy correspondent reports that the death occurred in Tongan on Monday last of Dr. Matthew Vandeweg, who with his wife arrived in Amoy in 1919 to join the Dutch Reformed Mission and was almost immediately put in charge of an up-country hospital, which has come to be looked upon as a model missionary institution. He recently contracted influenza, and heart failure came suddenly. The body was brought to Amoy, and the funeral service was held at the chapel of the Hope and Wilhelm Hospital. Dr. Vandeweg was only 35 years of age. He leaves a widow and two little sons.

matches were not played.

King's v. Club.

At Sookunpoo, these teams met before a large attendance. The game was very one-sided, and the King's should have won by a heavier margin. From the start the King's did most of the attacking, but poor shooting and a good display by Rodger in the Club goal prevented them from scoring. After Jones had received a pass from Williams and sent the ball against the crossbar, Dyer found the net with a shot that gave Rodger no chance, the ball going in off the upright. The Club then took up the attack and Begg was running through was grazed by Wynne in the penalty area and the Club made the score level from the spot kick. The King's then set up a bombardment of the Club's citadel but could not get through. Not to be done, Jones sent in a ripping shot just outside the penalty area. The ball hit the upright and rebounded to play, where Dyer made no mistake and returned it into the net, giving the King's the lead. At the interval the King's were leading by the odd goal in three. The second half saw the Club on the defensive practically throughout, but the King's could not add to their half-time score and won by two goals to one.

Tamar v. Despatch.

At Sookunpoo these teams played before a good attendance of naval men. The Despatch only arrived in port in the morning and this probably accounted for the display given. The Despatch has a well-balanced side and a fine attack. The combination shown by the forwards in the opening half was very good but the bustling tactics of the Tamar soon gained the upper hand and a lead of a goal to nil for the Despatch at the interval was turned into a three to one defeat at the call of time. Bladen beat Routley all the way after 12 minutes play and this was the only goal before the interval. Soon after restarting, the Tamar equalled the score from a penalty kick, well taken by Hudson, and Burd put the Tamar ahead by turning a pass from Oxland into the net, the ball glancing in off a defender's shoulder. Cross, who was playing his first League game this season, received from Brazendaie and beat Brewton in goal, the Tamar winning by three goals to one.

South China v. Police.

On the South China ground, the Police failed to gather their first point in the League and went down badly by four clear goals. The first half was evenly contested, thanks to the fine work of Swan in the Police goal. Wong Pak-chong scored the only goal of the opening half. The Police made a couple of raids on the South China goal but finished badly. Wong Shui-wa, Chan So and Wong Pak-chong added goals in the closing half, and South China were declared winners by 4 goals to 0.

Hawkins v. Carlisle.

On the Navy "A" ground, the Carlisle opened their League programme with a three to one defeat by the Hawkins. The game opened fairly even but the Hawkins soon took the lead, Sawyer working the ball into the net after Brown had partly cleared from Osborne. This was the only score before the interval.

Early in the second half, Sparkes put the Hawkins further ahead, for, taking the ball on the rebound from Osborne, he gave Brown no chance with a shot from close range. The Carlisle scored through Wright and before the call of time Osborne got through for the Hawkins.

Kowloon v. Ambrose.

On the Navy "B" ground, Kowloon had a comfortable win over the Ambrose by three clear goals. The play was more even-

LOCAL BOXING.

Morgan Accepts Bux's Challenge.

With reference to the challenge by Iron Bux to fight Stoker P. O. Morgan, the latter writes us to state that he has great pleasure in accepting the same, provided authority can be obtained for the fight to take place.

The Key-Morgan Fight.

We have received the following letter for publication—

Sir,—With reference to Battling Key's remarks on the fight with S. P. O. Morgan, I think it is very unparliamentary of Key to say what he did. He was here quite a long time looking for a fight, and all I can say is that he has been very lucky in getting one fixed up. If the manager of Morgan had not spoken to Key on the subject he would have gone back to Singapore without a fight. With regard to Key's remarks about walterweights, Morgan fought in the lightweights at Wei-haiwei last September. Granted he was a welter last year when he fought Derbyshire, but I say he was a lightweight on the night of his fight with Key. Key signed articles at catchweights, and I don't care where you go you will only hear catchweights announced, no weight being given, and there is thus no necessity to weigh in. So why all this piffle? Key has been beaten fair and square by a good man, but I suppose he must go away from here with some excuse. Why on earth did he not go into details properly before he signed the articles, and not wait until after the fight? That is poor sport.

I may mention that Morgan has fought all weights and given weight away—good weight at that. The public knows what Morgan has done here in Hongkong. As to Key's challenge to fight Morgan again, the latter is quite willing to accept it.

Yours etc.,

ly contested than the score indicates, but the Kowloon forwards were quicker on the ball and Townsend scored a couple of good goals. Hall opened the score for Kowloon, receiving the ball from Coombes and turning it into the net. In the closing half, Townsend receiving passes from Hall and Clemo turned them to good account, and Kowloon won by three goals to nil.

R.G.A. v. Durban.

On St. Joseph's ground the Military team had most of the play and won by two goals to nil. Phillips nearly let his side down in the opening minutes, for, making too sure of a long shot, he released the ball but picked it up just as Darlinson arrived and threw to the feet of the Durban's centre-half. That player returned it towards goal, where Darlinson was offside. Green scored from close range during the opening half and Coombes getting through during a scramble in the sailors' goalmouth the R.G.A. took their first points in the League this season by winning as above.

The Junior Matches.

The Junior games were well contested, and that between the King's and Durban second teams ended in a narrow victory for the military team by the odd goal in three. Carr and Livassy scored for the winners and Juniper for the losers.

The Ambrose defeated the Police on the Club ground by two goals to nil. Burt and Hooking scored the goals.

The United failed to maintain their last week's form and went down to the Hawkins Reserves on Navy "A" ground by three goals to one. Pope (2) and Wrigley scored for the winners, while Sewell sent the ball into his own goal following a corner kick.

The Warders failed against the R. G. A. Reserves on the St. Joseph's ground, the military team winning by two goals to nil. Sadler and Hicks scored.

The two South China teams met on their own ground, a fast game ended in a win for the "B" team by 4 goals to 2.

THE INTERPORT MATCH.

Shanghai's Thrilling Victory on Saturday.

LEACH'S FINE PERFORMANCE.

One of the most exciting Interport cricket matches we have had for many a long year ended on Saturday afternoon, when Shanghai, after all seemed lost, defeated Hongkong comfortably, mainly due to the failure by the local side to rise to the occasion in their second innings, and the magnificent batting of Leach for the visitors. His 79 was obtained in fine style, and probably won the match for his team.

After the Hongkong captain, Hancock, had been dismissed for a "duck" just at noon, Webster went in to partner Pearce. Hongkong's total was then 38 for the loss of four wickets.

Runs began to come more freely, with "Mr. Extras" contributing. Pearce gave a difficult chance to Divecha off O'Hara, and scored a single from this. A glance to the boundary past the slips, off Wilson, added a useful 4 to Pearce's total a minute later.

Webster reached the boundary not long afterwards off Wilson's bowling; and Pearce also found the ropes off the same bowler. Pearce afterwards survived an appeal for leg before.

The partnership was soon producing many useful runs, both batsmen scoring repeated boundary hits. Sixty was passed after less than three-quarters of an hour's play. Leach then relieved Wilson at the pavilion end, and for the next over Billings took O'Hara's place. Webster soon afterwards gave a chance in the slips off Leach, when he had passed 20. Leach was now bowling a faster ball. Webster later skied one of his deliveries, which was dropped by Spencer when all seemed over.

Quicker Scoring.

Seventy was passed before a quarter to one, and Hongkong were eighty up in another five minutes with Pearce going strong. The latter, however, was well caught in the slips by Leach after he had knocked up 25. Hongkong's total was now 84 for 5. Stapleton went in to partner Webster, who again reached the boundary with the last ball of Leach's over. Stapleton stole a single off Billings, and Webster then faced the Shanghai skipper, who found his off stump immediately after with a Yorker. Webster's score was the best so far, 31, and Hongkong were 89 for six wickets down.

Havelock Davies now joined Stapleton, and Wilson relieved Leach with the ball. Ninety was passed shortly before the interval, and Havelock Davies hitting off freely to the boundary soon raised the score past the century. Stapleton was beginning to get set, and also scored frequently. Wilson held one of Stapleton's returns, but it was a no-ball. Leach failed to hold a drive by Havelock Davies near the boundary, and this batsman sent the next ball from Billings over the screen at the Naval Yard end for 6.

The luncheon interval arrived at 1.15, with Hongkong past the 120 mark and only six wickets down.

The Rot Sets In.

The match was resumed at 2.5 p.m., and after about six minutes' play Havelock Davies was bowled by Wilson, who found his off stump, after he had contributed 33. Seven wickets down for 132.

Stapleton was joined by Sayer, who soon gave a difficult chance to Billings, and a minute later was clean bowled by Wilson after adding 6 runs to the total of his side. Hongkong had now reached 140 for 8.

Reed went in next, and shortly after Stapleton skied a ball from Wilson and was well caught by Divecha. Nine wickets down for 141.

L. J. Davies was last man in, and played Wilson's deliveries with caution, but this bowler soon found Reed's middle stump. He had scored only one run.

Hongkong's total was 141, just one point more than in the first innings.

Shanghai's Second Innings.

Shanghai, with 195 to make, went in for their second innings at twenty minutes to three. K. B. Ollerdesen and Hayward being the first two in, the latter facing the bowling of Havelock Davies from the Naval Yard end, Reed being at the other end.

Hayward soon began to hit out freely, Ollerdesen following suit. Reed, however, came slowly, and Hayward's leg stump, after fifteen minutes' play, was displaced by Havelock Davies. Hayward had scored 7, and Shanghai were one wicket down for 15.

Divecha joined Ollerdesen, and runs began to come more freely after a time, but the first-named sent a return off Reed to Hancock which the latter brilliantly caught almost on the ground. Two wickets for 20.

Leach Goes In.

Leach was next man in, and kept his end up well. Thirty was passed in a few minutes, and both batsmen seemed to be getting used to Havelock Davies' express deliveries. Evans afterwards relieved the latter with the ball. Shanghai were 50 up at 3.25.

Ollerdesen, one of the mainstays of his side, was appealed against for l.b.w. at half past three, and given out, with 19 to his credit, and Shanghai were now three wickets down for 34.

Lees went in to join Leach, and Webster took the ball from Reed. Seventy was passed at a quarter to four; and Sayer relieved Webster.

Evans shortly after found Lees' leg stump, when the latter had scored 11. Four for 50.

Clifford now joined Leach, and after some minutes of play, during which several useful runs were added, he hit Sayer over the screen at the pavilion end for 6, the score passing 90.

Havelock Davies then went on again at the Naval Yard end.

Runs continued to come freely, and the century was passed at 4.12 p.m. Leach had by then contributed over 30.

Hancock took Sayer's place, and Leach sent two of his deliveries to the boundary, passing his 40 easily, and raising the Shanghai total above 110. Leach reached half century at 4.30.

Clifford was caught in the slips just before this by Quick, after compiling a fine 23. Five wickets down for 125.

Deeks was the next man in, and he soon settled down. The Shanghai total passed 150 at 4.45. Deeks gave a chance in the slips soon afterwards. Leach had now passed 60.

A Fruitful Partnership.

Webster relieved Hancock, but the partnership remained unbroken, and Leach began to reach the ropes with frequency, passing 70 before five o'clock, when the Shanghai total was over 170.

Deeks was caught in the slips by Havelock Davies off Webster at 5.8 p.m., after scoring 21. Shanghai's chances of victory were now excellent, with 181 to their credit for the loss of only 6 wickets, and 15 more required to win.

Spencer was next in. Two minutes later Havelock Davies broke Leach's wicket with a good length ball. Seven for 187.

Leach's contribution was a magnificent 79, and he received a great ovation.

O'Hara followed to partner Spencer, who was almost immediately afterwards out l.b.w. to Havelock Davies. His score was 2.

Eight wickets for 188, and tense excitement.

Billings, the veteran captain, joined O'Hara and after two minutes play set all doubts at rest with a drive over the fence for 6, which brought victory to the visitors with two wickets still in hand. The Shanghai skipper was carried to the pavilion shoulder high, and three very hearty cheers were accorded his team, who in turn cheered the losers.

Thus ended a memorable day in local cricketing annals.

Some Comments.

The Interport cricket match which concluded on Saturday was remarkable for the comparatively low scoring in all the innings except Shanghai's second venture. It would appear that had Shanghai not collapsed so inexplicably in their first innings, the local side would have suffered a far more severe defeat, for Hongkong's totals of 140 and 141 may be taken as a fair average of what the side would ever be able to do against good bowlers and fielders, both of which were possessed by the visiting team.

On the whole, the batting on the Hongkong side was not very impressive, the bowling was confined to two or three men who really could be termed formidable, and the fielding was not consistently good. On top of all this, the local team had a distinct "tail," and it was here where Shanghai had the advantage, with every man in the eleven capable of doing something towards adding to the score. In view of the visitors' failure to come up to even moderate expectations in their first innings, this statement of their capabilities seems to lack point, but even the best of cricket teams are liable to suffer from a sudden "rot," and when this comes in the initial innings it is the subsequent innings that prove a team's worth.

Hongkong compiled only 104 for 7 wickets in the first innings, and reached 132 for 7 in the second, but with their feeble tail added only nine more runs to the whole score. When Shanghai reached 181 for 6 in their second knock, and still had several useful batsmen to depend on, including their skipper, it was realised that nothing short of a fluke could prevent them from winning.

The fielding has already been commented on. In the case of the visitors, it was excellent, though there was some slackness apparent in Hongkong's second innings.

The bowling was in the hands chiefly of Capt. Havelock Davies and E. B. Reed on the Hongkong side, and G. M. Billings and T. W. R. Wilson for Shanghai. Billings and Havelock Davies are two men who stand forth as mainstays of their respective sides, but the palm must be given to Leach. This, not because of his big batting contribution in the second innings alone, but also by reason of his all-round excellence. He took a splendid share of the fielding, being one of the outstanding men in that department, and probably saved some fifty runs for his side. He came in usefully as a change bowler as well.

As regards strategy it was only to be expected that the two veteran captains would have nothing to learn in that direction. The selection of the order of going in, and the change of bowlers, was carefully planned to get the best out of the material available on either side.

One feels disinclined to close these notes without some reference to the number of "leg before" appeals. In one case there was considerable controversy amongst the spectators as to the justice of a decision. One inclines to the view that the dignity of this great English game is better upheld the fewer such appeals there are.

CANTON BRITISH WOMEN'S FETE.

A Splendid Result.

The Canton British women attained the objective which they had in view throughout the summer, when on the 8th and 9th Nov. they raised sufficient money (about £650) to endow the bed in the Star and Garter annex at Sandgate to which they had already subscribed £350 since 1919.

On Thursday evening, the Canton Amateur Dramatic Society gave a delightful and highly successful performance of "A Tight Corner," produced by Mr. John Robertson. On Friday afternoon a few and sale of work attracted many visitors. The stalls did a brisk and profitable business. The tea garden was deservedly popular while the band of the First Division, discoursing lively music, was an attraction in itself. What with megaphones making sensational announcements, a hurdy-gurdy sporadically bursting into tunes, shouts from the side shows and cries of delight from the children, there was not a dull moment, notwithstanding the dull weather, till darkness closed in. Even then an amusing auction sale went on till all was cleared, and the treasurer collected his cash by the light of a lantern.

The antique red lacquer bath which was presented to be raffled by Mr. J. W. Jameson, C.M.G., was won by the holder of ticket No. 105; the silk jumper, presented by Mrs. Davidson, H.B.M. Consulate, and raffled at the Fancy Stall, was won by the holder of ticket No. 27; the baby's cot and doll, raffled at the Children's stall and afterwards resold twice, was won by the holder of ticket No. 63.

The British Women tender their grateful thanks to all who so generously helped them to raise the money required, and make the fete a success, to the Canton Amateur Theatrical Society for their benefit performance; to General Chan King-ming for the loan of the Band of the First Division; to Messrs. C. P. Lo, building contractors, for erecting the toboggan slide; to Messrs. Cheung Wo, building contractor, for fencing in the ground and putting up side shows; to Messrs. Lam Woo for help with the coconut shies; to the Chinese Maritime Customs Club for the loan of tables; to Messrs. SHIPPING NEWS.

FINEST DOCKS IN THE WORLD.

"In two years' time Liverpool will have at the north end the finest docks in the world and the best and biggest graving dock in the world, capable of accommodating the 70,000-ton American ships, if and when they are built, and we shall have something superior to anything in existence, under construction, and, so far as we know, authorized anywhere," said Mr. Richard D. Holt, chairman of the Works Committee of the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board. Mr. Holt, in proposing the confirmation of the proceedings of the Works Committee, which included a minute to purchase a second-hand locomotive, said it completed the purchase of locomotive necessary for getting on with the work of excavating the Gladstone Docks. He was also glad to be able to tell the Board that he was assured by the Engineer that the work had gone on very well during the summer, and was more than up to date. He would take the opportunity of reminding the Board that in two years' time they would have at the north end the finest docks in the world, the best and biggest graving dock in the world, capable of accommodating the 70,000-ton American ships, if and when they were built, and something superior to anything in existence, under construction, or so far as they knew, authorized anywhere.
